

The elderly are not as strong as they were when they were younger

Babies are born helpless, they rely on their parents.

Teenagers eat lots as they are growing fast.

Children learn lots of new things, their bodies and their feet grow stronger.

Adults take care of themselves.

Toddlers are wobbly on their feet, because they are learning to walk.

